“PHOTOGRAPHY & BIRDING IN COSTA RICA”

JULY 13th, 2010

Dr. Carl Boast (retired Neuroscientist) expanded his long-standing interest in nature photography upon his early retirement 7 yrs ago. Combined with an interest in travel, his photos have captured images from 6 continents including his own backyard.

Some of his photos have won awards. Some have been printed, matted, framed and sold to individuals and companies (he maintains a small hobby business called Peaceable Kingdom Photos).

He likes to share his experiences as well as his photos and is interested in having others enjoy the outdoors.

The presentation on “Photography & Birding in Costa Rica” is based on a trip that visited four major ecological regions: Atlantic highlands and lowlands and Pacific highlands and lowlands. Hundreds of species were seen but not all were successfully photographed. Highlights will be presented, including toucans, macaws, motmots, etc. and some more familiar migrants and widespread species.

FOLLOWING THE PRESENTATION, JOIN US FOR A DELICIOUS LUNCH BY CHEF KAREN!!!
